Your Cost vs. Our Cost

The salary is only one cost — there are numerous associated costs beyond the salary that must be considered, including, but not limited to:

- HR resources
- Sourcing, screening and interviewing time
- Job ads, background checks and drug screens
- Benefits and taxes
- Management oversight
- Office space and supplies

All these additional costs add up which begs the question, should you recruit and staff in-house or outsource this important business function to a strategic partner?

Finding great people is a difficult task.
It's what we do best — quickly.

Utilizing TSP, you can leave the hassle and stress of employee administration to us so you can focus on your primary business goals. We focus on employee and customer satisfaction, quality over quantity, and a quick response to staffing needs.
